From the programme in the first page will be seen that a most entiting bill is annonneed for the Queen's theatre to-night. The Thorne troupe, it will be also seen, announce the Octoroon for Monday, with very powerful cast of characters.

We are happy to state that at the general meeting of subscribers to the Amateur Thea tricals, which was held yesterday at the club it was resolved to make over the whole affair to Mr. Geo. Liewis, that is to say, the subscription list, the liabilities, the engagements, and the Theatre. Thus have the Amateurs been sunfed only like a faithing rushlight from sheer impoten cy, a suitable and yet a most disgraceful fall Mr. Lewis has announced his opening night for Wednesday.

THE Performance at the Queen's Theatre on Thursday was really excellent. The proforces of "Betsy Baker" and "Poor Pillacotty " Master G. W. Marsh has great histricute telent, and we are much mistaken if he does not attain a leading rank in his profession. A boy of his age to be able to sustain three leading characters in one night, and to acquit himself in all in the manner be did One dellar for ten lines or under—beyond that number 10 cents Thursday, is indeed a marvel. Miss Mattie per line additional. Repetitions half price. Mdich and Miss Jenny Arnot are most charming actresses, whilst Miss Josie Aldrich has comic powers of a high order. > REALLY the acquittal of the two men charged with receiving the Opium stolen by the drain-gang from Messus. Camujee's godown, is a most serious matter. We cannot suppose the jury were in any way unduly influenced, but we do say that they were blind to us strong evidence of guilt as prisoners were ever convicted on.

> The general reader should be informed that in establishing the identity of Malwa Opium, there are a variety of tests which Opium it spectors can apply with facility and precision In the first place, there is the consistency of the cakes in the second, the appearance and color of the drug-in the third, the smell-in the fourth, the yield when boiled (called by Chinese, the touch), and finally the time re quired to filter-which last test is the most reliable of all. It is necessary that the rea der should bear all this in mind, and that he should be told it is next to an impossibility | Age Without Participation With Participation that two separate and distinct batches of Opium ever present the identical result s in all these

That of the above Company at this Port, are Prepared surely was as surong evidence as could have to grant Polldies against Fire to the extent of been expected from them, and it was simply the possibility of their being mistaken in such conviction that the jury had to consider. "

Ilowever, this evidence, strong as it was, i by no means what we have to attach blame to the jury for having rejected. A once arithmetic is a square multiplied by itse and the only mode we can describe the corrorative testimony submitted to the jury, is desire the reader to imagine such testimony of Opium inspectors as we have indicated, mul tiplied by itself in the same manner as is square to produce a cube. In fact, the absence, or the rottenness of the testimuny, adduced to prove that the Opium was henestly

Much labor and expense were expended in getting up the case—all this has been thrown away by the anaccountable conduct of the Jury. The result is turned into a comor plete joke from the fact of the prisoners have ing claimed the stolen Opium. We suppose the next thing will be that they will suc

Messrs Camajee for false imprisonment!

WE have heard rather a good story, and were it not that it emanates from an undoubted source, we should judge it ruther too good to Hongkong, 24th December, 1864.

Mr. Cleverly, the Surveyor General, is an applicant for the honor of Companion of the nost henorable order of the Bath! On what grounds he seeks the honor we know not. He s trying hard for it and he expects to succeed. He has no legal claim to a pension and Gov. ernor Robinson's report regarding his career. would be damaging to the application. He can return and resume his functions if he pleases, and on attaining the age of fifty five will become entitled to a whacking persion. We suppose that he has offered to forego all this. provided he is made a C.B. That is the only claim we can think of on his part for the

It appears that the idea of Governor Robin son having been hoodwinked by Mr. Cleverly was anything but a fiction on our part. We are informed that Sir Heroules acknowledges in sackoloth and ashes, so to speak, that such was the case, and he attributes the present financial state of the colony, to the man's ignorance and reckless outlay. But the most singular thing of all is, that Governor Robinson should have been entirely led by the nose by the Surveyor General in the gas work job—His Excellency now regrets that he did not, either cause the share list to be filled in this colony, or otherwise that the local government did not assume the proprietory, and having made a similar sub-contract to that which the present shareholders did have derived revenue from the works. Sir Hercules has not a single share. How he could have been so completely choused, we know not. Of what use the shareholders are. ranme consisted of the little comedy of standing as they do between the government "Andy Blake" the Irish diamond, and the and the contractors, except to bag the profits, wa naver could make out. There is a job connected with the matter that is not yet lathomed. Governor Robinson was victimised he doubtless knows where the fraud lies, but he is only to blame for being boodwinked by sueli a supercilious nincumpoop.

We must say that there is a decided improvement in the Surveyor General's department since Mr. Wilson took charge; at least it seems so to us.
